YOUTH THEATRE WORKSHOPS.

- Under the fervent leadership of Tracey, our youth workshops are zipping along at a great pace. We have 16 members in their early teens learning the art of theatre. All aspects of theatre are being taught. Voice & movement. Script analysis, scene study, and subtext. The language and rules of theatre: including stage left and right. To date the members have enjoyed make-up classes by Keira Wysocki, and voice training by Mio, Marion Smith.
- Next month will be stage management by Susan Moore. Also in our programme, Shannon Markle, director of Pinocchio, is including some of the group as extras in her pantomime while others are working in the dressing rooms learning the art of costuming.

Public Art for Cambridge Arts Theatre

Please join us on Friday Nov. 25th at 5 PM as a new piece of public art will be unveiled in the Cambridge Arts Theatre.

The work was produced by D3 Artworks in partnership with the Galt Little Theatre and the Federal Government's Skill Development department.

Some members of GLT were used as models and are included in the final work.

Thank you to Kate Jones for costuming the models and to everyone who help complete the project. Hope to see you on Nov 25th.

Christmas party, Wednesday, December 14th. The Greenroom. Door prizes, Cash bar. Please bring finger food.
